What do you do at Outset and how do you support our clients?

I am a New Zealand qualified solicitor in the commercial property team at Outset. I advise clients on a variety of commercial property matters. My experience includes: leasing and Landlord and Tenant Act matters; development work; acquisitions and disposals of real estate assets; and real estate advisory work.

Give us a brief timeline of your career so far

I started my legal career in the corporate and commercial team at a top-tier leading New Zealand law firm before moving to a boutique property law firm. I then moved to London in 2019 where I joined a City law firm before joining Outset Legal LLP in January 2021.

Who inspires you most and why?

Jacinda Arden's leadership during the global pandemic is inspirational. She is an empathic and kind leader but is also capable of making tough decisions for the benefit of the country.

What do you enjoy most about your job?

I enjoy working on different types of property matters, problem solving and advising a range of clients. My role involves working on a variety of pieces of work and each day is different. I also enjoy working at a collaborative and supportive law firm.

What do you think sets Outset apart?

I think from clients' perspective's Outset is different than your typical law firm in how it operates. Outset seeks to give pragmatic and practical advice to clients. Outset is a full professional services firm rather than a traditional law firm, offering a broader range of services to clients.

I think the friendly culture of Outset sets it apart as a place where staff enjoy working. Everyone is made to feel valuable and everyone's different contributions to the firm are valued equally. I have joined the firm remotely during the pandemic and everyone has been incredibly welcoming and supportive.

When you were young, what did you want to be when you grew up?

When I was younger I wanted to be a teacher or a vet.

What do you enjoy doing when you are not working?

I enjoy catching up with friends and family. I enjoy outdoor activities such as hiking, going for walks in the weekend and trail running. I also enjoy reading, cooking and baking.

And finally... What is one thing you've learnt during lockdown?

I have learnt how to ride a bike. I had tried to learn during my childhood and then some friends decided to try to teach me during lockdown last year. The other weekend I rode from London to Greenwich.
